LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION READY PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE VOTES DRY TODAY

AGREEMENT REACHED ON ARMAMENT REDUCTION

BRITISH STATESMAN DECLARES U. S. HAS MUCH TO LOSE AND NOTHING TO GAIN IN WORLD LEAGUE

SAYS BIG AMERICAN NAVY NEEDED

By ROBERT J. BENDER

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The constitution of the "league of nations" is expected to be virtually completed tonight at a meeting of the committee having that work in charge. While several plans have been submitted it was learned that the joint Anglo-American program will be the crux of the discussion. It includes a score of articles embracing the British and American views with a preamble outlining the necessity for the establishment of the league. It was presented at yesterday's meeting but owing to the fact that it was not printed in French it was not generally discussed.

An agreement has already been reached on the principle of the reduction of armament under the league of nations, according to authoritative information. This means that America's naval program will be either scaled up or scaled down by the league according to the relative comparison with the other powers.

It will not be known for some time what the American naval campaign will be or the size of its standing army.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—"Success or failure of the 'league of nations' depends almost wholly upon the United States, while America from a purely practical standpoint has more to lose than gain through this league." This frank statement was made to the United Press today by Major General Frederick Maurice, British expert on military and international affairs. He was director of military operations for the British general staff when the British were operating against the German drive practically unaided. He made the famous "Where is Bleucher?" statement.

Maurice declared that not only must the United States furnish financial support for the reconstruction of the war stricken countries—but that a great American navy is absolutely essential to maintain the league.

POLISH AND CZECHO CLAIMS ADJUSTED

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The conflict between the Poles and the Czecho-Slavs over possible territory has been temporarily settled by the peace delegates under a principle to be incorporated in the "league of natios," according to official announcement here today.

IMPROVING WORKING CONDITIONS AT VELVET MILL

To make it more convenient to its employes the velvet mill changes its starting time. The mill will start at 7:20 a. m. This change of time is to enable the girls living on the East side of the river to come to work on the bus leaving the court house at 7:10 for the West Side. The company has also arranged to pay the bus fare for all their employes living on the East side of the river.

By this change of time and inducement it is hoped that more girls from town and East End will go to the mill to work.

They are especially in need of girls above 18 years of age for weaving.

The work is pleasant and clean and the wages the best in town for girls. Several of our weavers are now making over $20 per week.

The working and sanitary conditions are the best, the air being washed by the latest air washer system before it enters the mill.

Girls who replaced the soldier boys can do no better than to let the returning boys have their old jobs and go to the mill. They have room at present for more than 30 girls.

WEST SIDE REVIVAL SERMONS FINE

Last evening's attendance at the revival services at the West Side Methodist church was one of the largest that have yet come out to hear the gospel expounded by Rev. C. C. Snavely.

Last night the pastor spoke on the "Ideal Home" and drew touching word picture of the homes he had seen, ideal and otherwise.

Tonight Mr. Snavely will present the second sermon of the series, "The Mother in The Home." It is the intention to make this Mother's Night and it is hoped that the older members of the congregation will be out in full force.

Previous to the regular service there will be a fifteen minute song service in which the congregation will join with the choir in singing the old-time songs.

BAND REHEARSAL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Fire Department band will hold a rehearsal in No 1 hall Borough building, Wednesday evening, February 5th at 8 o'clock. Be present. F4-2t

Rev. C. R. Allenbach of Bedford, will join Mrs Allenbach at the home of Mrs. John Troxell this evening for a visit.

TWO HOURS OF HOT DEBATE PRECEDES VOTE WHICH WAS TAKEN SHORTLY AFTER TWELVE O'CLOCK TODAY

HOUSE HEEDS SPROUL'S ADVICE

The Pennsylvania Legislature is heeding the advice of Governor Wm. C. Sproul to "get in line with her sister states on the greatest self-disciplinary measure in the history of mankind". Shortly after noon today the House of Representatives voted on the Federal Prohibition Amendment and voted in the affirmative. All this happened in great and grand old Pennsylvania where we have been told for years that liquor reigned supreme and that Pennsylvania would never vote dry. Clearfield County's representatives would all vote in favor of the amendment as all were dry men. The press wires this afternoon carried Joe Phillips as voting with the wets but those who knew "Joyful Joe" put them right by explaining that it took all kinds of Phillips to make a world and consequently there are a couple of them in the legislature.

(By United Press)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The House today after a two hours' debate ratified the Sheppherd prohibition amendment 110 to 93. The spakers for the ratification of the amendment were Vickernan, of Allegheny, Showalter, of Union, and Wallace and Gordan of Lawrence. Those opposing the resolution were Ramsby, of Delaware county, Fowler of Lackawanna, and Wm. Davis, of Cambria. The rsolution was fixed for special order at 10:30 o'clock and the final vote was taken at 12:20. The drys were not in much danger at any time.

COUNCIL IGNORES STEAM PROBLEM. UP TO CONSUMERS

The regular session of Council held in the borough building last evening was attended by seven of the twelve members of Council. President Pletcher presided and Burgess Chase was also present.

Following the usual routine business Burgess Chase reported 34 arrests for January, the collection of $113 in fines and $125 in licenses for the month.

The election of Leslie F. Hopfer as Chief of the Fire Department was approved by Council.

The following complaint regarding the steam heat charges was read to Council:

Clearfield, Pa.,
January 4, 1919.

To the Town Council of Clearfield Borough,
Clearfield, Pa.

Gentlemen:—

A number of people have consulted me about investigation of the Steam and Gas Companies of this Borough. The charges that are being made by the Penn Public Service Company are beyond all reason and there should be an investigation. I would suggest that your body who represent the citizens of Clearfield Borough and who gave permission for the Steam Company to use the streets and alleys should take the matter in hand and as representatives of the citizens commence proceedings before the Public Service Commission to have the matter investigated. The consumers of steam heat do not want you to use Public funds for this purpose and are willing to contribute towards the expense of the same. I would suggest that the Council fix the time for a meeting and give notice through the newspapers of the meeting and request th consumers of steam heat to meet with them at the Council room at the time fixed in the notice.

I am making this suggestion at the request of the parties who have spoken to me in regard to the matter. I would appear before you personally but will be absent from home next Monday and take this means of asking you to take action

Please give the matter attention.

Respectfully yours,
W. A. HAGERTY.

No action was taken, some Councilmen living outside of the zone served by the steam company expressing themselves as though they considered the matter of a protest or other action the duty of the individual rather than the Council.

At a previous meeting the bills for steam heat for November and December had been held up pending some adjustment or remedy but Council decided to settle at this time. The bill for November was approximately $43, that for December $29 while January's bill was $63.

Some changes were ordered made in the steam service pipes and asbestos covering is to be placed upon the pipes in the cellar.

Council decided to send representatives to the convention of boroughs at Harrisburg Feb. 25th and 26th. At this convention legislation will be recommended to do away with the 42 mill State tax in borough bonds; to secure a share of the automobile license fund for boroughs and to allow boroughs to levy a tax against public service corporations operating in the boroughs.

At the request of the property owners adjacent thereto a small street light was ordered placed at the corner of West Fifth avenue and Nichols street.

Treasurer Whiteman's report showed a balance of $24,489.67 in the treasury. The different funds are provided for as follows:—General borough $4,713.73; Bond fund, $0,-763.02; Light and Water fund, $5,-405.74; 1916 Improvement fund, $2,-426.89; Firemen's Relief fund, $675.10; Emergency Hospital fund, $1,289.77; Shade Tree Commission, $102.87.

I saw it in The Progress.

WAR SAVING STAMPS IN GREAT DEMAND DURING JANUARY

Sales of War Savings Stamps in January sent the total of the receipts of the Government from this source above a million dollars. Information to this effect was received here today from the Treasury Department. January sales were in excess of those for December.

The Treasury reports total receipts from the sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps since they were placed on the market thirteen months ago, of $1,049,000,000. This includes $77,-000,000, estimated sales in January 1919, as compared with January 1918 sales of $34,000,000.

For total sales to date, since the beginning of the 1919 campaign, Clinton County leads all counties with per capita sales amounting to $.75.

BLACKHAND NOTE FOR JOHN H. MOORE

Prothonotary John H. Moore is oiling up his trusty rifle these days and is said to be traveling with a knife in his boot and a hand grenade and a revolver two feet long under his pillow, all on account of a document which was shoved under the front door of his Second street residence Sunday night last.

Monday morning when the door was opened a black hand note was found which demanded that $450 be left at a certain spot within a limited time or due calamity, not to say anything about the genial Prothonotary's death, would result.

The note, written in what was evidently a disguised hand, contained the impression of a big, dirty hand long bereft of soap and was signed "Committee".

The note was turned over to the authorities and Sheriff Gorman as well as Mayor Chase and his police force are making careful investigation.

The note may be a hoax and it may be the real thing, but Mr. Moore is taking no chances and is taking daily practice with both rifle and revolver and promises to give the Blackhanders a run for their money if they start anything.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church will hold an all day quilting Wednesday, also lunch will be served from 11 to 1 o'clock at 25 cents per plate.

BAPTIST REVIVAL IS GROWING IN INTEREST

The largest congregation in the history of the First Baptist church was present Sunday night last when Rev. G. E. Smith, the pastor, opened the evening's services.

Rev. Smith is one of the most widely experienced preachers to locate in Clearfield. He has spent many years as a nation-wide evangelist and conducted stirring and highly successful campaigns in many of the larger cities of this country and Canada before coming here. By reason of this experience and his knowledge of men and their spiritual needs he is able to diagnose spiritual conditions as he finds them with the same unerring judgment as the trained physician diagnoses the physical ills of his patients. Thus fortified his sermons are heart-searching and far reaching in their good results. This is attested by the growing interest in these meetings.

Rev. Smith took for his subject at the evening service "Getting Acquainted with God" and pointed out in a clear and convincing manner how to attain this desired condition.

Russell W. Crozier, Altoona's famous tenor, sang "Shadows" and "'Tis Jesus" in a highly pleasing manner.

These meetings will continue nightly at 7:30 o'clock. You are welcome.

ONE-MAN DELEGATION

There is one thing President Wilson may be assured of—no member of his peace commission will have any views on any subject in conflict with his own. Whenever the President takes a whiff of snuff, all the members of his commission will promptly sneeze.

PUT PEP IN POSTAGE

A New Yorker suggests that if Col. Roosevelt's picture were to be placed on our postage stamps it might tend to infuse new life into a moribund and disgracefully conducted department of the Government.

THE WORKMEN'S QUERY

Perhaps McAdoo thinks that since he raised the wages of railway employees the employees will always give him credit, and will bestow their censure upon any man who happens to be in control if wages ever come down again. But perhaps that won't be the workman's view. He may inquire why McAdoo didn't stick to the job and keep the wages up.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Prices are really beginning to break in Clearfield but like the new chick the prices are having a hard time getting out of the shell of war time profits. Judging from prices quoted today on butter and eggs in local stores, some of them have stocks on hand at considerable higher prices than obtain now as they are higher than other stores and much higher than is being quoted in DuBois.

Yesterday butter retailed at 65 cents in DuBois and eggs at 62 cents. The egg market showed signs of coming down as low as fifty-five cents before the end of the week but may not fall below sixty. These figures are still two or three cents below Pittsburgh prices where a further drop to at least sixty cents is expected this week on butter.

There is considerable disparity in prices locally. Today prices on eggs range from sixty to seventy cents in four of our stores. Prices on butter range from sixty-five to seventy-five cents. From this it will be seen that in a locality where we produce as much butter and eggs as DuBois we are paying two to three cents more on the average for the products and it is peculiar that we are paying at least five cents more per dozen for eggs and five cents more per pound for butter than consumers pay in the city of Pittsburgh. Although this difference in prices exists there is much encouragement in the fact that prices on these necessaries have begun to come down. There is greater encouragement to be gained from market reports which show the supply to be plentiful and the tendency of prices to be downward.

In men's wear the Clearfield buyer is now reaping bargains of the biggest kind. The light winter has resulted in a surplus stock on the shelves of many stores and without regard for losses the merchants have determined to clear their shelves and make room for spring and summer stock. Any man who is in a position to do so, should buy winter clothing now. Buy for next year. It will pay to do so.

ROAD BUILDING

GOOD HIGHWAYS HELP TRADE

Act as a Spur to Business Besides Giving Pleasure to Motorists—Benefit Everybody.

To some people good roads mean simply an advantage for the motorist, a convenience that was created and is maintained for the motorist's benefit, enabling him to get from place to place without racking his car to pieces or experiencing the necessity of being towed out of hub-deep mud.

Yet there is another side to this subject of the value of good roads, writes L. J. Ollier in Chicago Tribune. Good roads mean more than an opportunity to get out on tours from the health-giving and pleasure standpoints.

Good roads are closely allied with progress and prosperity. They promote the more widespread use of automobiles, and statistics prove automobiles and prosperity always go together.

It is fair to say that good roads benefit everybody: the city dwellers, those who live in towns, and those who live on farms. Of course, the fast-growing use of motorcars—the fact that automobiles are now considered practically a necessity for everybody—has been the biggest single influence in awakening this country to the fact that money expended in good roads extensions and improvements is money well spent.

We can all remember how only a few years ago city people paid little attention to good roads, and how farmers were even opposed to the expenditure of funds for the betterment of highways. That, of course, was before automobiles came into such widespread usage, in the days when motorcars were considered an extravagance and were owned only by the rich.

Good roads and the automobile have taken people out into the country. They have banished forever the isolation of farm life. They have increased health and prolonged life. They have enabled people to dig in and put better efforts into their work as a result of the relaxation and broadening-out experiences of the week-end trip into the country.

The prospect of being able to buy an automobile and receive the benefits of good roads has spurred the ambition and quickened the imagination of the man who walks or uses street cars. He wants to be independent.

He wants to get away from the limited vision that of necessity must be his just as long as he is bound to a life of pounding pavements and clinging to street-car straps. He works harder and achieves more, with the prospect of spinning over good roads in his own automobile. For traveling only around town he may feel that he cannot afford an automobile; that he cannot get his money's worth. There is where good roads come in, enabling just such a man to get out into the country and broaden out.

Good roads have been a stimulator of business. By means of good roads an outlet to the congestion of cities has been afforded. New towns have sprung up.

FUTURE NEEDS OF HIGHWAYS

Road Built Today May Not Stand Requirements of Tomorrow—Truck Will Show Weakness.

Roads should be built with an eye to the future needs as closely as the future needs can be figured. A road built for today may not stand the requirements of tomorrow. The same holds true of bridges and culverts. The truck will soon show up this weakness of the old road policy.

Work Needed After Rains.

There are many times when a day's work can be spared on the road. After heavy rains the road may need certain repairs or improvements when the overseer is not ready to call out the hands.

Crooked Road Dangerous.

With modern means of traffic a crooked road is a dangerous road, therefore, every road builder should endeavor to straighten his gutters. Besides, crooked gutters have a bad appearance.

Of the fifteen lines comprising the system of Chinese government railways, only one was built by the Chinese themselves.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

COLUMBUS A GENUINE SCOUT

Columbus was a sea scout. Without having taken the scout oath, he nevertheless observed all the twelve points of the scout law.

He was trustworthy. Queen Isabella started him for America and he arrived.

He was loyal. He offered his services first to his own country. When refused, he gave himself and his big idea to Spain and was true to her.

Helpful, he did one of the greatest good turns in history by opening the eyes of Queen Isabella to possibilities which she had never dreamed of.

Friendly, he treated the people of the new world generously.

Courteous, he impressed them with his courtly manners.

Kind, he checked the ruder impulses of his rough sailors and insisted upon fair play for all.

He was obedient. The orders of the Spanish sovereigns were obeyed.

Only cheerfulness of the highest order could have held his men through their days of superstitious dread and nights of terror.

Thrift prompted him to suggest that the discovery of the new world would mean untold wealth to Spain.

Without bravery he could never have faced a journey which, in the thinking of his time, led straight into the yawning jaws of frightful monsters.

He must have been clean. An abused body and mind would never have survived a week of his terrific strain.

Reverent, he thought out and carried out his voyage of discovery for the express purpose of carrying the Christian religion to souls who knew it not.

SCOUTS REPLANT WALNUT.

The replanting of black walnut trees, which are threatened with extermination as a result of their use for war purposes, is being urged.

According to the United States forest service the shortage of black walnut trees is not due alone to the demands of our own army. The Germans themselves stripped the American black walnut belt 20 years ago, when shipload after shipload of walnut lumber, which had been collected by German agents, was transported to Germany for military purposes. Their forehandedness in acquiring large stocks of black walnut timber this way undoubtedly meant that they used American black walnut against American troops.

President Wilson called upon the boy scouts to seek out individual trees for use in the manufacture of airplane propellers and gun stocks. The forest service, in giving the total figures as submitted to the ordnance department, says that the scouts have reported over 19,000,000 board feet, or almost 5,000 carloads of black walnut.

SCOUTS AGAINST NICKNAMES.

"So long as the foreign-born person feels that we do not respect him, he does not want to join America, learn English and become a citizen," says Commissioner P. P. Claxton of the United States bureau of education.

"The bureau believes that the boy scouts, who have pledged themselves to be helpful, friendly, courteous and kind, will be glad to adopt this code:

"My purpose shall be to discourage in the native-born the love for titles, to help every immigrant to forget his hyphen and be proud of the name American, and to stamp out the use of such nicknames as words of derision of the foreign born.

"We pledge our service never to use, and to discourage everywhere, the use of such words as Dago, Dutchy, Froggy, Ginny, Greaser, Heiny, Horwat, Hunky, Kike, Mick, Paddy, Sheeny, Spaghetti, Wop, as applied to any foreign-born resident in the United States of America."

FARRE TO FLY FOR SCOUTS.

Lieut. Henri Farre, France's famous artist-aviator, has endeared himself to all scouts by his friendliness whenever he meets any of them. He is in this country on a mission for the French government.

At Atlantic City he presented a war service emblem awarded by the treasury department to Rodney Fitzsimmons, a first-class scout in Troop No. 15, who sold 33 bonds with a total of $28,000.

Lieutenant Farre promised to fly under scout auspices from Atlantic City to Philadelphia.

MAY START THE WOLF CUBS.

The Boy Scouts of America have taken over the rights to control the copyright privileges of the Wolf Cub literature in this country, and with the approval of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, a small edition of this handbook has been printed in order that the scheme might be carefully studied in accordance with Sir Robert Baden-Powell's recommendation.

The Wolf Cub program is for development of the organization of boys between the ages of nine and twelve.

GOOD MONEY FROM BAD EGG

Jim Buckley Finally Proved Truth of Saying That He Was Fond of Repeating.

"Thar ain't nothin' in the world but is good fer somethin'" is one of the favorite sayings of Jim Buckley of Bear Lake.

Buckley is a thrifty soul. He farms in summer and traps in winter and between wheat and furs he is growing rich. One morning his wife was cooking breakfast. She broke a rotten egg into a skillet and was starting toward the door to throw it away when Buckley stopped her.

"Woman, don't throw that egg away," said Buckley.

"But it's rotten," protested his wife.

"Makes no difference," declared the philosopher. "Thar ain't nothin' in the world but—"

"James Buckley," exclaimed his wife, "I've heard that a thousand times."

The wolf never sniffs at the doors of the prosperous farmers of the Peace river country. But foxes are different animals—here is something you don't know—rotten eggs are rated as an epicurean tidbit in vulpine menus.

That night Buckley set a trap in a poplar grove near his home and baited it with the rotten egg. He hoped to catch a red fox or perhaps a coyote. But when he went out to his trap next morning, what do you think he found? The biggest silver fox Buckley ever had clapped eyes on. He sold the pelt in Peace River the other day for $346.

"A right nice lot o' money to hatch from a rotten egg," remarked Buckley, as he stuffed the money in his pocket. "I've allers allowed that thar ain't nothin' in the world but is good fer somethin'."—Chicago Post.

ONE GOOD THING FROM WAR

Cocone Nut, Hitherto Considered Only as Nuisance, Has Been Made Article of Commerce.

Before the war the cocone, which grows freely in the Southern Americas, on large trees of the palm family, was literally such a hard nut to crack that its vegetable oil had no place in commerce, and the tree was known chiefly as a botheration to banana planters when they wished to enlarge their plantations. Eighteen hundred pounds' pressure is required to crack the cocone nut, and there was no machinery for doing it. Then government experts said that nothing else in the world would provide such good carbon for gas masks as the cocone nut, and the United States financed the creation of machinery for cracking it, thus starting a new and important industry. Hereafter it will be well worth while breaking the shells for the vegetable oil inside them, valuable for cooking, lighting, and the making of nut butter; and the shells, happily no longer needed for masks, can be used as fuel or in the manufacture of gas. And so, out of an effort to prevent the expansion of autocracy by conquest, the Southern Americas find opportunity to expand by commerce.—Scientific American.

Aristocrats in Gutter.

We hear rumors of grand dukes and other members of the old nobility of Russia driving cabs and peddling bootlaces in Petrograd. This is no new thing in Europe. In England the descendants of the great Plantagenets have been found in very lowly occupations. A few years ago a lawsuit proved that a genuine Bourbon was then hawking vegetables in the streets of Paris. A few years earlier a son of a cousin of Empress Josephine, Napoleon's first love, was sent to prison for petty larceny. In 1892 the Marquis DeFolgoas was an omnibus conductor; the Comte de la Marche was a house painter; the Marquis DeTorcey d'Etal-Linde kept a small inn at Carnac, and the Marquis d'Hautefeuche, a descendant of the nobleman who, at the battle of Fontenoy, called out to the English: "Tirez les premiers," was a gendarme.

In an official announcement issued to the 3,854 chapters and 22,000,000 members, Mr. Davison says:

"We must labor in co-operation with the National Red Cross and relief societies of other nations to the end that not alone the heart of America, but the heart of all mankind, may become mobilized on behalf of suffering humanity.

"While, therefore, the plans of the American Red Cross in this direction cannot be formulated specifically in advance of the general relief program of the allied governments, the American Red Cross is nevertheless planning to develop its permanent organization in this country upon a scale never before contemplated in time of peace.

"Study is being given by the national organization, not alone to problems of international relief, but to plans in this country for enlarged home service, the promotion of public health education, development of nursing, the care and prevention of accidents and other correlated lines which may contribute to the health and happiness of men, women and children.

"For the completion of its war work and for the institution of its peace program, the Red Cross is fortunately in a healthy financial condition. What the American Red Cross needs now is not so much contributions of money, as the continued devotion and loyalty of its members."

In the last sentence was the keynote of the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call—an appeal for continued support through membership rather than a call for funds.

The end of the fighting found about 7,000 Red Cross men and women in France, where, of course, there was an immediate decrease of personnel when the French government assumed charge of the anti-tuberculosis campaign, the feeding and clothing of refugees, and other relief affecting the French people. The American workers who remained on duty were mainly those with American troops.

From supplies stored in France have been diverted many things urgently needed by the Red Cross commission for the Balkans, Serbia and Greece. Relief work by Americans in those countries continued to be vital after the armistice. Hospitals have been equipped, food and clothing provided, agricultural training schools established and medical attention supplied to scattered communities which war had left in utter destitution. A special appeal on behalf of tubercular Serbian refugees in France met instant response.

An additional $600,000 was contributed to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief for the months of November and December. The half of the story of suffering among subject races of the Turkish empire has not been told, nor a fraction of the misery alleviated. Previous Red Cross gifts to the committee had totaled $3,000,000. Toward the end of the year it was estimated that destitute persons in western Asia numbered nearly 4,000,000.

In Palestine a serious food shortage has been averted, employment found for impoverished natives in the larger cities, and refuges opened for the homeless wanderers left in the path of war. The Red Cross commission for Siberia continues its emergency work pending an international solution of the Russian problem. The needs are limitless. Nobody can tell when or how they will be met in full.

Antimony in the Transvaal.

A new body of antimony is reported to have been opened near the Komati river, in the district of the Steynsdorp gold fields, Transvaal. As the ore is found to be valuable, a mining company is now carrying on smelting operations on the spot. Three shafts have been sunk to a depth of 50 feet, besides open workings. Ore is continuous throughout. A furnace capable of smelting ten tons of ore per day is in operation and it is stated that there is sufficient ore in sight to keep the furnace working while developments are being made.—Scientific American.

Roberts Predicted Foch's Victory.

When Lord Roberts was in Canada ten years ago at the dedication of the Plains of Abraham park and playground he made this prediction: "They refuse to believe me, and we are asleep under a false security, for I do not hesitate to affirm that we will have a frightful war in Europe, and that Great Britain and France will have the hardest experience of their existence. They will, in fact, see defeat very near, but the war will finally be won by the genius of a French general named Ferdinand Foch, professor in the military school in Paris."

Little Rivers Important.

In his war ode Dr. van Dyke remains loyal to "little rivers." In his book, "Little Rivers," he has already made little rivers as interesting as the little drops of water that make the mighty ocean. Freedom begins at the source.

OUR RETIREMENT SYSTEM FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS

A retirement system for public school teachers now forms a part of almost every progressiv school system. Many European countries adopted the teachers' retirement system long before this movement became so general in our country. The list of foreign countreis that have adopted teachers' retirement systems includes Belgium, France, Italy, Great Britain and Ireland, Russia, Holland, Greece, Servia, Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Oustria-Hungary, New Zealand, Japan, South Africa and various South American countries.

The history of teachers' pensions systems in the United States is comparatively brief. The first city system was established in Chicago in 1893. The first state-wide system was established in New Jersey in 1896. There are now thirty-four states in the union in which teachers retirement systems have been established in twenty-three states the system is state-wide in its application. The names of the twenty-three states having a state-wide system and the dates of establishment follow:

New Jersey, 1896.
Ohio, 1897
Maryland, 1903
Rhode Island, 1907
Virginia, 1908
New York and Wisconsin, 1911
Arizona, 1912
California, Maine, Utah and Vermont, 1913
Massachusetts and North Dakota, 1914
Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada and New Hampshire, 1915
Cinnecticut and Pennsylvania, 1917

The Pennsylvania school employes retirement system has been established on a sound acturial basis. The rates of contribution to the retirement fund for both employe and employer have been adopted as a result of a careful actuarial investigation of the mortality and service experience of teachers throughout the country. One half of the annual retirement allowances will be paid from contributions by the employes and one-half by the employers. The retirement system will benefit the public school system of the entire state.

For the purpose of membership in the retirement association, employes are divided into two groups—present employes and new entrants. All persons employed in any capacity in connection with the public school system of this commonwealth prior to July 8, 1917 are termed 'present employes'; those employed for the first time since July 18, 1917 are termed 'new entrants'. Membership in the Retirement association is voluntary for present employes and compulsory for new entrants. All present employes who desire to become members of Retirement association are directed by the Retirement act to make written application to the state superintendent of public instruction before July 1, 1919.

The management of the retirement system is vested in the retirement board, consisting of the superintendent of public instruction; the state treasurer; a member appointed by the governor of the commonwealth; three members of the state retirement association elected from among their number in a manner to be approved by the superintendent of public instruction, the state treasurer and the member appointed by the governor; and one member, not an employe nor officer or employe of the state, who shall be elected annually by the other members of the board to serve for a term of one year.

The Retirement art makes it obligatory on the part of employers to cooperate with the retirement board by furnishing such information, keeping such records and performing such other duties as may be necessary in the organization and administration of the retirement system. A special circular of information outlining in detail the duties of employers in relation to the retirement system will be mailed to the secretary and treasurer of each school district in the state.

The Pennsylvania retirement system provides for the return of all contributions, with interest at 4 per cent. compounded annually, to an employe who for any reason separates permanently from school service before reaching the retirement age. Should an employe die before retirement, the contributions to the retirement fund will be paid to his or her estate Young teachers who expect to teach for a few years only will find the retirement fund a convenient and safe savings fund.

On retirement teachers have the choice of a number of options:

1. To receive their allowances in monthly installments; or

2. To receive reduced payments with the provision that any sums remaining at death shall be paid to his or hers heirs or assigns; or

3. To receive reduced payments, with payments to a designated beneficiary through life; or

4. To receive such other form of actuarial equivalent as may be approved by the retirement board.

The opportunity which the state retirement act provides for the protection of someone dependent upon an employe for support, is to many employes one of the most attractive features of the retirement system.

Should any school employe or other person desire further information regarding the Pennsylvania school employes' retirement system, it may be obtained by addressing the secretary of the state retirement board, Harrisburg, Penna.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel backachy or have bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

SHOT THROUGH STOMACH WITH SHRAPNEL, McGEES CAPTAIN WILL LIVE

While the allied army doctors have accomplished many surgical wonders in their efforts behind the battle lines in France, a Clearfield county captain is the hero of one of their most outstanding feats.

Captain Irwin O. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, of McGees Mills, is the soldier. Montgomery has served in the army for 18 years when the war broke out and was quickly advanced to the rank of captain and sent to command a combat company. He served through a number of the hardest fights without a scratch and after the battle of the Argonne, was detailed to gather information concerning casuals. He was stationed 10 miles behind the lines when a Hun long-range gun dropped a shrapnel shell near him and a piece of shrapnel was blown through his stomach lodging in the muscles of his back.

His case was a hard one for the doctors connected with Base Hospital No. 94 worked one of their miracles upon him. He was wounded November 4, one week before hostilities ceased and on November 21, 20 days later, had recovered sufficiently to write "Dad'd Christmas letter."

COMMENDATION FOR CORPORAL HOBERT LEIPOLD

Hobart F. Leipold, son of the late Dr. B. E. Leipold and nephew of Dr. F. D. Leipold is another Clearfield boy to receive recognition from his superior officers for bravery in action and meritorious conduct as a non-commissioned officer.

Hobert was one of the first Clearfield boys to volunteer, enlisting in the Second U. S Regular cavalry, through the DuBois recruiting office shortly after war was declared, at the age of 19 years.

He received his preliminary training in Texas and at Fort Ethan Allen. For a long time after reaching the front in France his regiment was used as foot soldiers and saw much active service in the trenches.

Just before the big American offensive at St. Mihiel the cavalry were given their horses and did valient service in that memorable contest, the second regiment being in the thick of the fray and suffered heavy casualties.

Private Leipold, who is the most expert rider and crack revolver shot of his outfit distinguished himself repeatedly in the several engagements resulting in bloting out the salient and was promoted to a Corporal for heroism on the field.

In command of a detachment from his troop he was attached to the 38th Infantry as a part of the army of occupation and made the long hike into Germany.

The commander of the 38th Infantry issued the following order concern the work of his cavalry detachment:

Headquarters 2nd Bt. 38th Inf.
A. E. F. Germany, Jan. 13, 1919

1. The Battalion Commander desires to express his appreciation of the conduct of Corporal Leipold and his detachment who were attached to this battalion during the entire period of the march from France.

2. The duties of this detachment were oftimes very trying and quite frequently involved considerable hardships. Nevertheless they were invariably performed efficiently, promptly and cheerfully.

3. The conduct, bearing, discipline and soldierly qualities of these men brought forth no inconsiderable amount of favorable comment and marked them as soldiers of the finest type.

4. The work of Corporal Leipold deserves especial mention, soldierly in bearing, prompt and efficient in the discharge of his duties, he won the admiration and highest regard of all the officers in the battalion and without hesitation the battalion commander will say that he never saw a better non-commissioned officer.

Eight Reasons Why We Did Not Splurge On A Clearance Sale

ONE. With all lines of clothing showing sharp advances for Spring, closing out apparel in present stocks at greatly reduced prices would be commercial folly.

TWO. We have held prices down to a minimum on all stocks to our own disadvantage in many instances.

THREE. Prices have never been inflated here. We have always sought to make only a nominal profit on lines that have a national reputation to maintain.

FOUR. When you take into consideration the supreme quality in a HART SCHAFFNER & MARX suit or overcoat and realize, that even tho' you may have paid a little more than the price of a few years ago, you have been suited or overcoated in the same refined, well clothed way to which you've grown accustomed.

FIVE. To the young fellows who have become accustomed to wearing SOCIETY BRAND quality it is well worth your while to know that you've been paying just enough to allow us a fair profit. No "sale losses" were figured into the first markings.

SIX. It's a great source of satisfaction to you to know that sleazy, shoddy clothing has no place in this store. Sweat-shop-made garments are "tabooed".

SEVEN. That right now you have an opportunity to come here and get serviceable, stylish clothing at prices that were in force when last Fall's clothing was bought—even though prices have advanced since.

EIGHT. That these prices will be in force as long as the clothes remain in the store—no upward trend because present markets are higher.

BROTHER OF BERT BARNES PRAISED FOR GREAT WORK

Captain Stanley Barnes of the Salvation Army, a brother of Bert Barnes of Clearfield, died of influenza in France on Sunday, December 15th. Of Captain Barnes the Wheeling Daily News says:

"Captain Stanley Barnes, in his thirty-sixth year, died of influenza

while ministering to our service boys near Paris. He was in charge of the Salvation Army here until he went to France last year. He was well liked by his associates and Wheeling will sadly miss him not only because of the good he did here but because of his sunny disposition and wonderful voice. Mrs. Barnes has had full charge of the work here since her husband went to France and she expected him home in January. She still has her son George, aged 8, who will partly recompense her for the loss of her loving husband."

The War Cry, the official publication of the Salvation Army, adds this tribute to the sacrificing life of Captain Barnes:

"In his passing the Salvation Army has lost a devoted, consecrated officer, his wife has lost a loyal, affectionate husband, and a great host of Salvationists mourn the loss of a true comrade. A prominent officer of the army said: 'His greatest characteristic was his naturalness—he was always the same—just a natural fellow, with a handshake and a God Bless you—for all'."

The War Cry devotes three columns to the great work done by Captain Barnes during his service over here and "over there."

"HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

D. W. Griffith's latest triumph, "Hearts of the World," will come to the Driggs theatre Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, Feb. 7th and 8th. That this spectacle is the sensational hit of the year one may judge from the fact that its run in New York City reached the significant number of 700 performances, and that it has been shown in most of our large cities to countless thousands of people.

It is best described as a love story that takes place on the battlefields of France. Ham, the scene of many encounters, is the locality of most of the play's action. As a prelude to the story such historically interesting scenes are shown as the meeting of the English Parliament on the eventful night when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French Senate voting upon the declaration of war and the session of the Cabinet awaiting the hour when the ultimatum to Germany would expire. Such world figures as former Premier Viviani, Winston Churchill, General Joffre and David Lloyd George appear in various scenes.

Were it not for the enforcement and co-operation of the British and French War Offices, whose representatives personally escorted Mr. Griffith and his players into the thick of the fray, "Hearts of the World" would not be a reality.

The play tells a story that words cannot tell. It depicts scenes of actual conflict that only those at the front ever saw. It unmasks the barbarian Hun, and exposes his dastardly intrigue in peace and war. Barbarous gas attacks, bombardments and views batteries of big guns and machine guns in their work of destruction. And yet this spectacle is not a mere playwright is an appealing romance, a love story that also [illegible] would never expect to find here.

Such notable [illegible] as Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish, Robert Harron, Clarine Seymour, Kate Bruce and others have the principal roles. A symphony orchestra of [illegible] musicians will render the play's [illegible]

We couldn't make the Maxwell any better; so we made it better looking

AN artist never frames his masterpiece until he finishes it.

So the new Maxwell, a completed work, is now robed in new garments.

They do not make it run any better. They make it look better.

Mr. Whistler, himself, were he here today and saw a new Maxwell pass on the street, would probably give it a second look.

A little touch here, the straightening of a line there, the bringing of a fender a little closer to the wheel, a circassian walnut dash before you as you sit at the wheel, the strength lent by putting the gas tank in the rear, the multiplication of bonnet vents, the adding of three more painting coats, the increased thickness of the seat cushions—these, though but a few of the many changes made,—show the tendency of the new beauty.

It is in the sum of many little things that the full story is told.

The car was first checked off in squares, as a doctor sometimes marks off a man's chest and back to test every square inch of the lungs.

And there was an improvement made in nearly every square.

When the task was done it looked like a different Maxwell.

But it wasn't.

It was the same, sound, go-get-there chassis built to stand the gaff of rough and ready driving, built to endure, to "stay put," to stand all the erratic moods of the careless driver.

It was a five year drive to reach this present peak of Maxwell efficiency. But the engineers, and the manufacturing men knew that building a chassis without fundamental change in design year after year would ultimately tell in results. For every one knows that doing one thing results in doing it well.

So in five years 300,000 Maxwells have come forth, all built on the original chassis plan—each new one better than the last.

There is no self-starting automobile in the world that has such a manufacturing record.

Think what it means to a man who owns one:

He has not paid for a false overhead.

He has not paid for manufacturing mistakes.

He has not paid for experimental work.

He has not paid for the changes of mind of another man.

Today you get a better Maxwell than any of the 300,000, and a better looking Maxwell. It is a finished work, a completed task, a thing well done.

You run no risk—and when you cast your eyes on it you are tempted to feel that the price might easily be $200 more.

Lieutenant Peters enlisted at Altoona, when he was employd by the S. M. He was one of the soldiers on the Moldavia, which was torpedoed off the coast of Ireland at 3 o'clock one morning in February, 1918, with the loss of fifty lives. Mr. Heinricks Was Ready to Give Up. Then He Found How to Regain Health.

"The first sleep I had had in three months was on the second night after I began using Milks Emulsion. I had had a bad case of stomach trouble and constipation for years and was ready to give up. Nearly 65,000 women were engaged in engineering work in England during the war.

In suffrage circles plans are already under consideration for a suitable observance next year of the centennial of the birth of Susan B. Anthony, the famous pioneer of the woman's rights movement in America.

Says Grove of Set water Before [illegible]

Physicians the world over recommend the use of hot water, claiming that it is more beneficial than outside examinations, because the skin purifies the system in addition to the blood, causing all impurities, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Many well women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to prevent sickness, biliousness, indigestion, constipation and many other troubles.

It is said that hot water and limestone phosphate act more thoroughly than calomel, cascara or pills, and are not habit forming.

300 ATTEND ANTI-CIGARETTE MEETING AT Y. M. C. A.

A large crowd of 300 fathers and mothers and boys and girls of Clearfield heard Secretary Graffius' address Sunday afternoon on cigarettes He said he had seen several small boys and minors purchase cigarettes in several stores in town

The twelve boys he took before the district attorney exposed several stores He answered the criticism of parents and lies of the law violators by cold facts He denies having written or having given notes for boys to buy cigarettes He compared a cigarette to a mad dog or a rattlesnake and said the following drugs and poisons were put in cigarette papers, oesuir, opium and cocaine, stating, if a man or boy was to chew up a pack of cigarette papers and swallow them they would kill him in a half hours time

The ministers of the different churches are backing up and standing back of Mr Graffius in a fight against minors buying or smoking cigarettes and have asked their congregations to stand for the right

Much interest is being aroused in the court trial this week, against the store on Third street which sold cigarettes to minors.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS CONSTITUTION READY PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE VOTES DRY TODAY

AGREEMENT REACHED ON ARMAMENT REDUCTION

BRITISH STATESMAN DECLARES U. S. HAS MUCH TO LOSE AND NOTHING TO GAIN IN WORLD LEAGUE

SAYS BIG AMERICAN NAVY NEEDED

By ROBERT J. BENDER

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The constitution of the "league of nations" is expected to be virtually completed tonight at a meeting of the committee having that work in charge. While several plans have been submitted it was learned that the joint Anglo-American program will be the crux of the discussion. It includes a score of articles embracing the British and American views with a preamble outlining the necessity for the establishment of the league. It was presented at yesterday's meeting but owing to the fact that it was not printed in French it was not generally discussed.

An agreement has already been reached on the principle of the reduction of armament under the league of nations, according to authoritative information. This means that America's naval program will be either scaled up or scaled down by the league according to the relative comparison with the other powers.

It will not be known for some time what the American naval campaign will be or the size of its standing army.

By LOWELL MELLETT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright 1919 by the United Press)

PARIS, Feb. 4.—"Success or failure of the 'league of nations' depends almost wholly upon the United States, while America from a purely practical standpoint has more to lose than gain through this league." This frank statement was made to the United Press today by Major General Frederick Maurice, British expert on military and international affairs. He was director of military operations for the British general staff when the British were operating against the German drive practically unaided. He made the famous "Where is Bleucher?" statement.

Maurice declared that not only must the United States furnish financial support for the reconstruction of the war stricken countries—but that a great American navy is absolutely essential to maintain the league.

POLISH AND CZECHO CLAIMS ADJUSTED

(By United Press)

PARIS, Feb. 4.—The conflict between the Poles and the Czecho-Slavs over possible territory has been temporarily settled by the peace delegates under a principle to be incorporated in the "league of natios," according to official announcement here today.

IMPROVING WORKING CONDITIONS AT VELVET MILL

To make it more convenient to its employes the velvet mill changes its starting time. The mill will start at 7:20 a. m. This change of time is to enable the girls living on the East side of the river to come to work on the bus leaving the court house at 7:10 for the West Side. The company has also arranged to pay the bus fare for all their employes living on the East side of the river.

By this change of time and inducement it is hoped that more girls from town and East End will go to the mill to work.

They are especially in need of girls above 18 years of age for weaving.

The work is pleasant and clean and the wages the best in town for girls. Several of our weavers are now making over $20 per week.

The working and sanitary conditions are the best, the air being washed by the latest air washer system before it enters the mill.

Girls who replaced the soldier boys can do no better than to let the returning boys have their old jobs and go to the mill. They have room at present for more than 30 girls.

TWO HOURS OF HOT DEBATE PRECEDES VOTE WHICH WAS TAKEN SHORTLY AFTER TWELVE O'CLOCK TODAY

HOUSE HEEDS SPROUL'S ADVICE

The Pennsylvania Legislature is heeding the advice of Governor Wm. C. Sproul to "get in line with her sister states on the greatest self-disciplinary measure in the history of mankind". Shortly after noon today the House of Representatives voted on the Federal Prohibition Amendment and voted in the affirmative. All this happened in great and grand old Pennsylvania where we have been told for years that liquor reigned supreme and that Pennsylvania would never vote dry. Clearfield County's representatives would all vote in favor of the amendment as all were dry men. The press wires this afternoon carried Joe Phillips as voting with the wets but those who knew "Joyful Joe" put them right by exolaining that it took all kinds of Phillips to make a world and consequently there are a couple of them in the legislature.

(By United Press)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The House today after a two hours' debate ratified the Sheppherd prohibition amendment 110 to 93. The spakers for the ratification of the amendment were Vickernan, of Allegheny, Showalter, of Union, and Wallace and Gordan of Lawrence. Those opposing the resolution were Ramsby, of Delaware county, Fowler of Lackawanna, and Wm. Davis, of Cambria. The rsolution was fixed for special order at 10:30 o'clock and the final vote was taken at 12:20. The drys were not in much danger at any time.

COUNCIL IGNORES STEAM PROBLEM. UP TO CONSUMERS

The regular session of Council held in the borough building last evening was attended by seven of the twelve members of Council. President Pletcher presided and Burgess Chase was also present.

Following the usual routine business Burgess Chase reported 34 arrests for January, the collection of $113 in fines and $125 in licenses for the month.

The election of Leslie F. Hopfer as Chief of the Fire Department was approved by Council.

The following complaint regarding the steam heat charges was read to Council:

Clearfield, Pa.,
January 4, 1919.

To the Town Council of Clearfield Borough,
Clearfield, Pa.

Gentlemen:—

A number of people have consulted me about investigation of the Steam and Gas Companies of this Borough. The charges that are being made by the Penn Public Service Company are beyond all reason and there should be an investigation. I would suggest that your body who represent the citizens of Clearfield Borough and who gave permission for the Steam Company to use the streets and alleys should take the matter in hand and as representatives of the citizens commence proceedings before the Public Service Commission to have the matter investigated. The consumers of steam heat do not want you to use Public funds for this purpose and are willing to contribute towards the expense of the same. I would suggest that the Council fix the time for a meeting and give notice through the newspapers of the meeting and request th consumers of steam heat to meet with them at the Council room at the time fixed in the notice.

I am making this suggestion at the request of the parties who have spoken to me in regard to the matter. I would appear before you personally but will be absent from home next Monday and take this means of asking you to take action

Please give the matter attention.

Respectfully yours,
W. A. HAGERTY.

No action was taken, some Councilmen living outside of the zone served by the steam company expressing themselves as though they considered the matter of a protest or other action the duty of the individual rather than the Council.

At a previous meeting the bills for steam heat for November and December had been held up pending some adjustment or remedy but Council decided to settle at this time. The bill for November was approximately $43, that for December $29 while January's bill was $63.

Some changes were ordered made in the steam service pipes and asbestos covering is to be placed upon the pipes in the cellar.

Council decided to send representatives to the convention of boroughs at Harrisburg Feb. 25th and 26th. At this convention legislation will be recommended to do away with the 42 mill State tax in borough bonds; to secure a share of the automobile license fund for boroughs and to allow boroughs to levy a tax against public service corporations operating in the boroughs.

At the request of the property owners adjacent thereto a small street light was ordered placed at the corner of West Fifth avenue and Nichols street.

Treasurer Whiteman's report showed a balance of $24,489.67 in the treasury. The different funds are provided for as follows:—General borough $4,713.73; Bond fund, $0,-763.02; Light and Water fund, $5,-405.74; 1916 Improvement fund, $2,-426.89; Firemen's Relief fund, $675.10; Emergency Hospital fund, $1,289.77; Shade Tree Commission, $102.87.

I saw it in The Progress.

WAR SAVING STAMPS IN GREAT DEMAND DURING JANUARY

Sales of War Savings Stamps in January sent the total of the receipts of the Government from this source above a million dollars. Information to this effect was received here today from the Treasury Department. January sales were in excess of those for December.

The Treasury reports total receipts from the sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps since they were placed on the market thirteen months ago, of $1,049,000,000. This includes $77,-000,000, estimated sales in January 1919, as compared with January 1918 sales of $34,000,000.

Eastern Pennsylvania Sales

For the week ending January 25th Union County lead all counties in the Third Federal Reserve District, with per capita sales of 26c. Elk followed with $.18, Juniata $.12, Blair $.11, Clinton $.09, Fulton $.10. BLACKHAND NOTE FOR JOHN H. MOORE

Prothonotary John H. Moore is oiling up his trusty rifle these days and is said to be traveling with a knife in his boot and a hand grenade and a revolver two feet long under his pillow, all on account of a document which was shoved under the front door of his Second street residence Sunday night last.

Monday morning when the door was opened a black hand note was found which demanded that $450 be left at a certain spot within a limited time or due calamity, not to say anything about the genial Prothonotary's death, would result.

The note, written in what was evidently a disguised hand, contained the impression of a big, dirty hand long bereft of soap and was signed "Committee".

The note was turned over to the authorities and Sheriff Gorman as well as Mayor Chase and his police force are making careful investigation.

The note may be a hoax and it may be the real thing, but Mr. Moore is taking no chances and is taking daily practice with both rifle and revolver and promises to give the Blackhanders a run for their money if they start anything.

BAPTIST REVIVAL IS GROWING IN INTEREST

The largest congregation in the history of the First Baptist church was present Sunday night last when Rev. G. E. Smith, the pastor, opened the evening's services.

Rev. Smith is one of the most widely experienced preachers to locate in Clearfield. He has spent many years as a nation-wide evangelist and conducted stirring and highly successful campaigns in many of the larger cities of this country and Canada before coming here. By reason of this experience and his knowledge of men and their spiritual needs he is able to diagnose spiritual conditions as he finds them with the same unerring judgment as the trained physician diagnoses the physical ills of his patients. Thus fortified his sermons are heart-searching and far reaching in their good results. This is attested by the growing interest in these meetings.

Rev. Smith took for his subject at the evening service "Getting Acquainted with God" and pointed out in a clear and convincing manner how to attain this desired condition.

Russell W. Crozier, Altoona's famous tenor, sang "Shadows" and "'Tis Jesus" in a highly pleasing manner.

These meetings will continue nightly at 7:30 o'clock. You are welcome.

ONE-MAN DELEGATION

There is one thing President Wilson may be assured of—no member of his peace commission will have any views on any subject in conflict with his own. Whenever the President takes a whiff of snuff, all the members of his commission will promptly sneeze.

PUT PEP IN POSTAGE

A New Yorker suggests that if Col. Roosevelt's picture were to be placed on our postage stamps it might tend to infuse new life into a moribund and disgracefully conducted department of the Government.

THE WORKMEN'S QUERY

Perhaps McAdoo thinks that since he raised the wages of railway employees the employees will always give him credit, and will bestow their censure upon any man who happens to be in control if wages ever come down again. But perhaps that won't be the workman's view. He may inquire why McAdoo didn't stick to the job and keep the wages up.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Prices are really beginning to break in Clearfield but like the new chick the prices are having a hard time getting out of the shell of war time profits. Judging from prices quoted today on butter and eggs in local stores, some of them have stocks on hand at considerable higher prices than obtain now as they are higher than other stores and much higher than is being quoted in DuBois.

Yesterday butter retailed at 65 cents in DuBois and eggs at 62 cents. The egg market showed signs of coming down as low as fifty-five cents before the end of the week but may not fall below sixty. These figures are still two or three cents below Pittsburgh prices where a further drop to at least sixty cents is expected this week on butter.

There is considerable disparity in prices locally. Today prices on eggs range from sixty to seventy cents in four of our stores. Prices on butter range from sixty-five to seventy-five cents. From this it will be seen that in a locality where we produce as much butter and eggs as DuBois we are paying two to three cents more on the average for the products and it is peculiar that we are paying at least five cents more per dozen for eggs and five cents more per pound for butter than consumers pay in the city of Pittsburgh. Although this difference in prices exists there is much encouragement in the fact that prices on these necessaries have begun to come down. There is greater encouragement to be gained from market reports which show the supply to be plentiful and the tendency of prices to be downward.

In men's wear the Clearfield buyer is now reaping bargains of the biggest kind. The light winter has resulted in a surplus stock on the shelves of many stores and without regard for losses the merchants have determined to clear their shelves and make room for spring and summer stock. Any man who is in a position to do so, should buy winter clothing now. Buy for next year. It will pay to do so.

ROAD BUILDING

GOOD HIGHWAYS HELP TRADE

Act as a Spur to Business Besides Giving Pleasure to Motorists—Benefit Everybody.

To some people good roads mean simply an advantage for the motorist, a convenience that was created and is maintained for the motorist's benefit, enabling him to get from place to place without racking his car to pieces or experiencing the necessity of being towed out of hub-deep mud.

Yet there is another side to this subject of the value of good roads, writes L. J. Ollier in Chicago Tribune. Good roads mean more than an opportunity to get out on tours from the health-giving and pleasure standpoints.

Good roads are closely allied with progress and prosperity. They promote the more widespread use of automobiles, and statistics prove automobiles and prosperity always go together.

It is fair to say that good roads benefit everybody: the city dwellers, those who live in towns, and those who live on farms. Of course, the fast-growing use of motorcars—the fact that automobiles are now considered practically a necessity for everybody—has been the biggest single influence in awakening this country to the fact that money expended in good roads extensions and improvements is money well spent.

We can all remember how only a few years ago city people paid little attention to good roads, and how farmers were even opposed to the expenditure of funds for the betterment of highways. That, of course, was before automobiles came into such widespread usage, in the days when motorcars were considered an extravagance and were owned only by the rich.

Good roads and the automobile have taken people out into the country. They have banished forever the isolation of farm life. They have increased health and prolonged life. They have enabled people to dig in and put better efforts into their work as a result of the relaxation and broadening-out experiences of the week-end trip into the country.

The prospect of being able to buy an automobile and receive the benefits of good roads has spurred the ambition and quickened the imagination of the man who walks or uses street cars. He wants to be independent.

He wants to get away from the limited vision that of necessity must be his just as long as he is bound to a life of pounding pavements and clinging to street-car straps. He works harder and achieves more, with the prospect of spinning over good roads in his own automobile. For traveling only around town he may feel that he cannot afford an automobile; that he cannot get his money's worth. There is where good roads come in, enabling just such a man to get out into the country and broaden out.

Good roads have been a stimulator of business. By means of good roads an outlet to the congestion of cities has been afforded. New towns have sprung up.

FUTURE NEEDS OF HIGHWAYS

Road Built Today May Not Stand Requirements of Tomorrow—Truck Will Show Weakness.

Roads should be built with an eye to the future needs as closely as the future needs can be figured. A road built for today may not stand the requirements of tomorrow. The same holds true of bridges and culverts. The truck will soon show up this weakness of the old road policy.

Work Needed After Rains.

There are many times when a day's work can be spared on the road. After heavy rains the road may need certain repairs or improvements when the overseer is not ready to call out the hands.

Crooked Road Dangerous.

With modern means of traffic a crooked road is a dangerous road, therefore, every road builder should endeavor to straighten his gutters. Besides, crooked gutters have a bad appearance.

Of the fifteen lines comprising the system of Chinese government railways, only one was built by the Chinese themselves.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

COLUMBUS A GENUINE SCOUT

Columbus was a sea scout. Without having taken the scout oath, he nevertheless observed all the twelve points of the scout law.

He was trustworthy. Queen Isabella started him for America and he arrived.

He was loyal. He offered his services first to his own country. When refused, he gave himself and his big idea to Spain and was true to her.

Helpful, he did one of the greatest good turns in history by opening the eyes of Queen Isabella to possibilities which she had never dreamed of.

Friendly, he treated the people of the new world generously.

Courteous, he impressed them with his courtly manners.

Kind, he checked the ruder impulses of his rough sailors and insisted upon fair play for all.

He was obedient. The orders of the Spanish sovereigns were obeyed.

Only cheerfulness of the highest order could have held his men through their days of superstitious dread and nights of terror.

Thrift prompted him to suggest that the discovery of the new world would mean untold wealth to Spain.

Without bravery he could never have faced a journey which, in the thinking of his time, led straight into the yawning jaws of frightful monsters.

He must have been clean. An abused body and mind would never have survived a week of his terrific strain.

Reverent, he thought out and carried out his voyage of discovery for the express purpose of carrying the Christian religion to souls who knew it not.

SCOUTS REPLANT WALNUT.

The replanting of black walnut trees, which are threatened with extermination as a result of their use for war purposes, is being urged.

According to the United States forest service the shortage of black walnut trees is not due alone to the demands of our own army. The Germans themselves stripped the American black walnut belt 20 years ago, when shipload after shipload of walnut lumber, which had been collected by German agents, was transported to Germany for military purposes. Their forehandedness in acquiring large stocks of black walnut timber this way undoubtedly meant that they used American black walnut against American troops.

President Wilson called upon the boy scouts to seek out individual trees for use in the manufacture of airplane propellers and gun stocks. The forest service, in giving the total figures as submitted to the ordnance department, says that the scouts have reported over 19,000,000 board feet, or almost 5,000 carloads of black walnut.

SCOUTS AGAINST NICKNAMES.

"So long as the foreign-born person feels that we do not respect him, he does not want to join America, learn English and become a citizen," says Commissioner P. P. Claxton of the United States bureau of education.

"The bureau believes that the boy scouts, who have pledged themselves to be helpful, friendly, courteous and kind, will be glad to adopt this code:

"My purpose shall be to discourage in the native-born the love for titles, to help every immigrant to forget his hyphen and be proud of the name American, and to stamp out the use of such nicknames as words of derision of the foreign born.

"We pledge our service never to use, and to discourage everywhere, the use of such words as Dago, Dutchy, Froggy, Ginny, Greaser, Heiny, Horwat, Hunky, Kike, Mick, Paddy, Sheeny, Spaghetti, Wop, as applied to any foreign-born resident in the United States of America."

FARRE TO FLY FOR SCOUTS.

Lieut. Henri Farre, France's famous artist-aviator, has endeared himself to all scouts by his friendliness whenever he meets any of them. He is in this country on a mission for the French government.

At Atlantic City he presented a war service emblem awarded by the treasury department to Rodney Fitzsimmons, a first-class scout in Troop No. 15, who sold 33 bonds with a total of $28,000.

Lieutenant Farre promised to fly under scout auspices from Atlantic City to Philadelphia.

MAY START THE WOLF CUBS.

The Boy Scouts of America have taken over the rights to control the copyright privileges of the Wolf Cub literature in this country, and with the approval of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, a small edition of this handbook has been printed in order that the scheme might be carefully studied in accordance with Sir Robert Baden-Powell's recommendation.

The Wolf Cub program is for development of the organization of boys between the ages of nine and twelve.

GOOD MONEY FROM BAD EGG

Jim Buckley Finally Proved Truth of Saying That He Was Fond of Repeating.

"Thar ain't nothin' in the world but is good fer somethin'" is one of the favorite sayings of Jim Buckley of Bear Lake.

Buckley is a thrifty soul. He farms in summer and traps in winter and between wheat and furs he is growing rich. One morning his wife was cooking breakfast. She broke a rotten egg into a skillet and was starting toward the door to throw it away when Buckley stopped her.

"Woman, don't throw that egg away," said Buckley.

"But it's rotten," protested his wife.

"Makes no difference," declared the philosopher. "Thar ain't nothin' in the world but—"

"James Buckley," exclaimed his wife, "I've heard that a thousand times."

The wolf never sniffs at the doors of the prosperous farmers of the Peace river country. But foxes are different animals—here is something you don't know—rotten eggs are rated as an epicurean tidbit in vulpine menus.

That night Buckley set a trap in a poplar grove near his home and baited it with the rotten egg. He hoped to catch a red fox or perhaps a coyote. But when he went out to his trap next morning, what do you think he found? The biggest silver fox Buckley ever had clapped eyes on. He sold the pelt in Peace River the other day for $346.

"A right nice lot o' money to hatch from a rotten egg," remarked Buckley, as he stuffed the money in his pocket. "I've allers allowed that thar ain't nothin' in the world but is good fer somethin'."—Chicago Post.

ONE GOOD THING FROM WAR

Cocone Nut, Hitherto Considered Only as Nuisance, Has Been Made Article of Commerce.

Before the war the cocone, which grows freely in the Southern Americas, on large trees of the palm family, was literally such a hard nut to crack that its vegetable oil had no place in commerce, and the tree was known chiefly as a botheration to banana planters when they wished to enlarge their plantations. Eighteen hundred pounds' pressure is required to crack the cocone nut, and there was no machinery for doing it. Then government experts said that nothing else in the world would provide such good carbon for gas masks as the cocone nut, and the United States financed the creation of machinery for cracking it, thus starting a new and important industry. Hereafter it will be well worth while breaking the shells for the vegetable oil inside them, valuable for cooking, lighting, and the making of nut butter; and the shells, happily no longer needed for masks, can be used as fuel or in the manufacture of gas. And so, out of an effort to prevent the expansion of autocracy by conquest, the Southern Americas find opportunity to expand by commerce.—Scientific American.

Aristocrats in Gutter.

We hear rumors of grand dukes and other members of the old nobility of Russia driving cabs and peddling bootlaces in Petrograd. This is no new thing in Europe. In England the descendants of the great Plantagenets have been found in very lowly occupations. A few years ago a lawsuit proved that a genuine Bourbon was then hawking vegetables in the streets of Paris. A few years earlier a son of a cousin of Empress Josephine, Napoleon's first love, was sent to prison for petty larceny. In 1892 the Marquis DeFolgoas was an omnibus conductor; the Comte de la Marche was a house painter; the Marquis DeTorcey d'Etal-Linde kept a small inn at Carnac, and the Marquis d'Hautefeuche, a descendant of the nobleman who, at the battle of Fontenoy, called out to the English: "Tirez les premiers," was a gendarme.

In an official announcement issued to the 3,854 chapters and 22,000,000 members, Mr. Davison says:

"We must labor in co-operation with the National Red Cross and relief societies of other nations to the end that not alone the heart of America, but the heart of all mankind, may become mobilized on behalf of suffering humanity.

"While, therefore, the plans of the American Red Cross in this direction cannot be formulated specifically in advance of the general relief program of the allied governments, the American Red Cross is nevertheless planning to develop its permanent organization in this country upon a scale never before contemplated in time of peace.

"Study is being given by the national organization, not alone to problems of international relief, but to plans in this country for enlarged home service, the promotion of public health education, development of nursing, the care and prevention of accidents and other correlated lines which may contribute to the health and happiness of men, women and children.

"For the completion of its war work and for the institution of its peace program, the Red Cross is fortunately in a healthy financial condition. What the American Red Cross needs now is not so much contributions of money, as the continued devotion and loyalty of its members."

In the last sentence was the keynote of the Red Cross Christmas Roll Call—an appeal for continued support through membership rather than a call for funds.

The end of the fighting found about 7,000 Red Cross men and women in France, where, of course, there was an immediate decrease of personnel when the French government assumed charge of the anti-tuberculosis campaign, the feeding and clothing of refugees, and other relief affecting the French people. The American workers who remained on duty were mainly those with American troops.

From supplies stored in France have been diverted many things urgently needed by the Red Cross commission for the Balkans, Serbia and Greece. Relief work by Americans in those countries continued to be vital after the armistice. Hospitals have been equipped, food and clothing provided, agricultural training schools established and medical attention supplied to scattered communities which war had left in utter destitution. A special appeal on behalf of tubercular Serbian refugees in France met instant response.

An additional $600,000 was contributed to the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief for the months of November and December. The half of the story of suffering among subject races of the Turkish empire has not been told, nor a fraction of the misery alleviated. Previous Red Cross gifts to the committee had totaled $3,000,000. Toward the end of the year it was estimated that destitute persons in western Asia numbered nearly 4,000,000.

In Palestine a serious food shortage has been averted, employment found for impoverished natives in the larger cities, and refuges opened for the homeless wanderers left in the path of war. The Red Cross commission for Siberia continues its emergency work pending an international solution of the Russian problem. The needs are limitless. Nobody can tell when or how they will be met in full.

Antimony in the Transvaal.

A new body of antimony is reported to have been opened near the Kaapsch river, in the district of the Steynsdorp gold fields, Transvaal. As the ore is found to be valuable, a mining company is now carrying on smelting operations on the spot. Three shafts have been sunk to a depth of 50 feet, besides open workings. Ore is continuous throughout. A furnace capable of smelting ten tons of ore per day is in operation and it is stated that there is sufficient ore in sight to keep the furnace working while developments are being made.—Scientific American.

Roberts Predicted Foch's Victory.

When Lord Roberts was in Canada ten years ago at the dedication of the Plains of Abraham park and playground he made this prediction: "They refuse to believe me, and we are asleep under a false security, for I do not hesitate to affirm that we will have a frightful war in Europe, and that Great Britain and France will have the hardest experience of their existence. They will, in fact, see defeat very near, but the war will finally be won by the genius of a French general named Ferdinand Foch, professor in the military school in Paris."

Little Rivers Important.

In his war ode Dr. van Dyke remains loyal to "little rivers." In his book, "Little Rivers," he has already made little rivers as interesting as the little drops of water that make the mighty ocean. Freedom begins at the source.

OUR RETIREMENT SYSTEM FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS

A retirement system for public school teachers now forms a part of almost every progressiv school system. Many European countries adopted the teachers' retirement system long before this movement became so general in our country. The list of foreign countreis that have adopted teachers' retirement systems includes Belgium, France, Italy, Great Britain and Ireland, Russia, Holland, Greece, Servia, Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Qustria-Hungary, New Zealand, Japan, South Africa and various South American countries.

The history of teachers' pensions systems in the United States is comparatively brief. The first city system was established in Chicago in 1893. The first state-wide system was established in New Jersey in 1896. There are now thirty-four states in the union in which teachers retirement systems have been established in twenty-three states the system is state-wide in its application. The names of the twenty-three states having a state-wide system and the dates of establishment follow:

New Jersey, 1896.
Ohio, 1897
Maryland, 1903
Rhode Island, 1907
Virginia, 1908
New York and Wisconsin, 1911
Arizona, 1912
California, Maine, Utah and Vermont, 1913
Massachusetts and North Dakota, 1914
Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada and New Hampshire, 1915
Cinnecticut and Pennsylvania, 1917

The Pennsylvania school employes retirement system has been established on a sound acturial basis. The rates of contribution to the retirement fund for both employe and employer have been adopted as a result of a careful actuarial investigation of the mortality and service experience of teachers throughout the country. One half of the annual retirement allowances will be paid from contributions by the employes and one-half by the employers. The retirement system will benefit the public school system of the entire state.

For the purpose of membership in the retirement association, employes are divided into two groups—present employes and new entrants. All persons employed in any capacity in connection with the public school system of this commonwealth prior to July 8, 1917 are termed 'present employes'; those employed for the first time since July 18, 1917 are termed 'new entrants'. Membership in the Retirement association is voluntary for present employes and compulsory for new entrants. All present employes who desire to become members of Retirement association are directed by the Retirement act to make written application to the state superintendent of public instruction before July 1, 1919.

The management of the retirement system is vested in the retirement board, consisting of the superintendent of public instruction; the state treasurer; a member appointed by the governor of the commonwealth; three members of the state retirement association elected from among their number in a manner to be approved by the superintendent of public instruction, the state treasurer and the member appointed by the governor; and one member, not an employe nor officer or employe of the state, who shall be elected annually by the other members of the board to serve for a term of one year.

The Retirement art makes it obligatory on the part of employers to cooperate with the retirement board by furnishing such information, keeping such records and performing such other duties as may be necessary in the organization and administration of the retirement system. A special circular of information outlining in detail the duties of employers in relation to the retirement system will be mailed to the secretary and treasurer of each school district in the state.

The Pennsylvania retirement system provides for the return of all contributions, with interest at 4 per cent. compounded annually, to an employe who for any reason separates permanently from school service before reaching the retirement age. Should an employe die before retirement, the contributions to the retirement fund will be paid to his or her estate Young teachers who expect to teach for a few years only will find the retirement fund a convenient and safe savings fund.

On retirement teachers have the choice of a number of options:

1. To receive their allowances in monthly installments; or

2. To receive reduced payments with the provision that any sums remaining at death shall be paid to his or hers heirs or assigns; or

3. To receive reduced payments, with payments to a designated beneficiary through life; or

4. To receive such other form of actuarial equivalent as may be approved by the retirement board.

The opportunity which the state retirement act provides for the protection of someone dependent upon an employe for support, is to many employes one of the most attractive features of the retirement system.

Should any school employe or other person desire further information regarding the Pennsylvania school employes' retirement system, it may be obtained by addressing the secretary of the state retirement board, Harrisburg, Penna.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel backachy or have bladder trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

SHOT THROUGH STOMACH WITH SHRAPNEL, McGEES CAPTAIN WILL LIVE

While the allied army doctors have accomplished many surgical wonders in their efforts behind the battle lines in France, a Clearfield county captain is the hero of one of their most outstanding feats.

Captain Irwin O. Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Montgomery, of McGees Mills, is the soldier. Montgomery has served in the army for 18 years when the war broke out and was quickly advanced to the rank of captain and sent to command a combat company. He served through a number of the hardest fights without a scratch and after the battle of the Argonne, was detailed to gather information concerning canals. He was stationed 10 miles behind the lines when a Hun long-range gun dropped a shrapnel shell near him and a piece of shrapnel was blown through his stomach lodging in the muscles of his back.

His case was a hard one for the doctors connected with Base Hospital No. 94 worked one of their miracles upon him. He was wounded November 4, one week before hostilities ceased and on November 21, 20 days later, had recovered sufficiently to write "Dad'd Christmas letter."

In ancient times the country now known Portugal was called Lusitania The present name is derived from Porto Cale, the original appellation of Oporto, which has ever been the chief commercial city of the country.

One of the peculiar properties of iodine is that a seven-thousandth part of it will give water a deep yellow color and starch a purple. When heated it rises as a dense violet-colored vapor.

COMMENDATION FOR CORPORAL HOBERT LEIPOLD

Hobart F. Leipold, son of the late Dr. B. E. Leipold and nephew of Dr. F. D. Leipold is another Clearfield boy to receive recognition from his superior officers for bravery in action and meritorious conduct as a non-commissioned officer.

Hobert was one of the first Clearfield boys to volunteer, enlisting in the Second U. S Regular cavalry, through the DuBois recruiting office shortly after war was declared, at the age of 19 years.

He received his preliminary training in Texas and at Fort Ethan Allen. For a long time after reaching the front in France his regiment was used as foot soldiers and saw much active service in the trenches.

Just before the big American offensive at St. Mihiel the cavalry were given their horses and did valient service in that memorable contest, the second regiment being in the thick of the fray and suffered heavy casualties.

Private Leipold, who is the most expert rider and crack revolver shot of his outfit distinguished himself repeatedly in the several engagements resulting in bloting out the salient and was promoted to a Corporal for heroism on the field.

In command of a detachment from his troop he was attached to the 38th Infantry as a part of the army of occupation and made the long hike into Germany.

The commander of the 38th Infantry issued the following order concern the work of his cavalry detachment:

Headquarters 2nd Bt. 38th Inf.
A. E. F. Germany, Jan. 13, 1919

1. The Battalion Commander desires to express his appreciation of the conduct of Corporal Leipold and his detachment who were attached to this battalion during the entire period of the march from France.

2. The duties of this detachment were oftimes very trying and quite frequently involved considerable hardships. Nevertheless they were invariably performed efficiently, promptly and cheerfully.

3. The conduct, bearing, discipline and soldierly qualities of these men brought forth no inconsiderable amount of favorable comment and marked them as soldiers of the finest type.

4. The work of Corporal Leipold deserves especial mention, soldierly in bearing, prompt and efficient in the discharge of his duties, he won the admiration and highest regard of all the officers in the battalion and without hesitation the battalion commander will say that he never saw a better non-commissioned officer.

Eight Reasons Why We Did Not Splurge On A Clearance Sale

ONE. With all lines of clothing showing sharp advances for Spring, closing out apparel in present stocks at greatly reduced prices would be commercial folly.

TWO. We have held prices down to a minimum on all stocks to our own disadvantage in many instances.

THREE. Prices have never been inflated here. We have always sought to make only a nominal profit on lines that have a national reputation to maintain.

FOUR. When you take into consideration the supreme quality in a HART SCHAFFNER & MARX suit or overcoat and realize, that even tho' you may have paid a little more than the price of a few years ago, you have been suited or overcoated in the same refined, well clothed way to which you've grown accustomed.

FIVE. To the young fellows who have become accustomed to wearing SOCIETY BRAND quality it is well worth your while to know that you've been paying just enough to allow us a fair profit. No "sale losses" were figured into the first markings.

SIX. It's a great source of satisfaction to you to know that sleazy, shoddy clothing has no place in this store. Sweat-shop-made garments are "tabooed".

SEVEN. That right now you have an opportunity to come here and get serviceable, stylish clothing at prices that were in force when last Fall's clothing was bought—even though prices have advanced since.

EIGHT. That these prices will be in force as long as the clothes remain in the store—no upward trend because present markets are higher.

BROTHER OF BERT BARNES PRAISED FOR GREAT WORK

Captain Stanley Barnes of the Salvation Army, a brother of Bert Barnes of Clearfield, died of influenza in France on Sunday, December 15th. Of Captain Barnes the Wheeling Daily News says:

"Captain Stanley Barnes, in his thirty-sixth year, died of influenza

while ministering to our service boys near Paris. He was in charge of the Salvation Army here until he went to France last year. He was well liked by his associates and Wheeling will sadly miss him not only because of the good he did here but because of his sunny disposition and wonderful voice. Mrs. Barnes has had full charge of the work here since her husband went to France and she expected him home in January. She still has her son George, aged 8, who will partly recompense her for the loss of her loving husband."

The War Cry, the official publication of the Salvation Army, adds this tribute to the sacrificing life of Captain Barnes:

"In his passing the Salvation Army has lost a devoted, consecrated officer, his wife has lost a loyal, affectionate husband, and a great host of Salvationists mourn the loss of a true comrade. A prominent officer of the army said: 'His greatest characteristic was his naturalness—he was always the same—just a natural fellow, with a handshake and a God Bless you—for all'."

The War Cry devotes three columns to the great work done by Captain Barnes during his service over here and "over there."

"HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

D. W. Griffith's latest triumph, "Hearts of the World," will come to the Driggs theatre Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday matinee, Feb. 7th and 8th. That this spectacle is the sensational hit of the year one may judge from the fact that its run in New York City reached the significant number of 700 performances, and that it has been shown in most of our large cities to countless thousands of people.

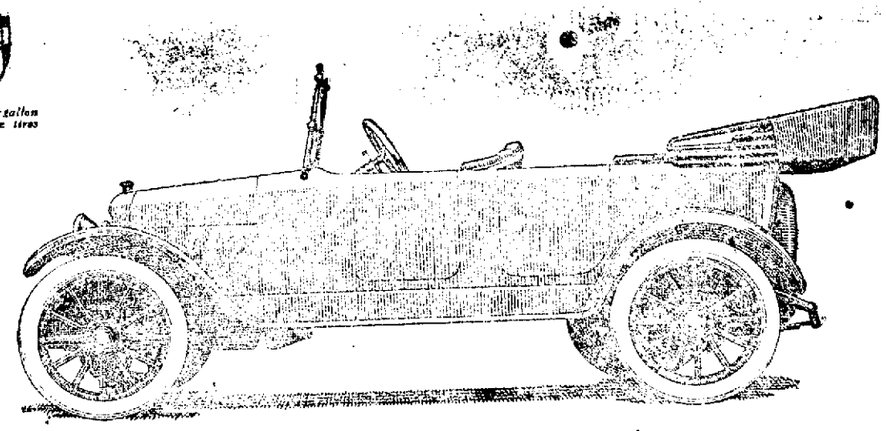
It is best described as a love story that takes place on the battlefields of France. Ham, the scene of many encounters, is the locality of most of the play's action. As a prelude to the story such historically interesting scenes are shown as the meeting of the English Parliament on the eventful night when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French Senate voting upon the declaration of war and the session of the Cabinet awaiting the hour when the ultimatum to Germany would expire. Such world figures as former Premier Viviani, Winston Churchill, General Joffre and David Lloyd George appear in various scenes.

Were it not for the endorsement and co-operation of the British and French War Offices, whose representatives personally escorted Mr. Griffith and his players into the thick of the fray, "Hearts of the World" would not be a reality.

The play tells a story that words cannot tell. It depicts scenes of actual conflict that only those at the front ever saw. It unmasks the barbarian Hun, and exposes his dastardly intrigue in peace and war. Barbarous gas attacks, bombardments and views batteries of big guns and machine guns in their work of destruction. And yet this spectacle is not a mere playwright is an appealing romance of love story that also [illegible] would never expect to find [illegible]

Such notable [illegible] as Lillian Gish, Dorothy Gish, Robert Harron, George Siegmann, Kate Bruce and others [illegible] roles. A symphony orchestra [illegible] play's presentation.

The first state [illegible] in the Republic of Haiti has been established and opened under the direction and control of the United States Public Health Service.



We couldn't make the Maxwell any better; so we made it better looking

AN artist never frames his masterpiece until he finishes it.

So the new Maxwell, a completed work, is now robed in new garments.

They do not make it run any better. They make it look better.

Mr. Whistler, himself, were he here today and saw a new Maxwell pass on the street, would probably give it a second look.

A little touch here, the straightening of a line there, the bringing of a fender a little closer to the wheel, a circassian walnut dash before you as you sit at the wheel, the strength lent by putting the gas tank in the rear, the multiplication of bonnet vents, the adding of three more painting coats, the increased thickness of the seat cushions—these, though but a few of the many changes made,—show the tendency of the new beauty.

It is in the sum of many little things that the full story is told.

The car was first checked off in squares, as a doctor sometimes marks off a man's chest and back to test every square inch of the lungs.

And there was an improvement made in nearly every square.

When the task was done it looked like a different Maxwell.

But it wasn't.

It was the same, sound, go-get-there chassis built to stand the gaff of rough and ready driving, built to endure, to "stay put," to stand all the erratic moods of the careless driver.

It was a five year drive to reach this present peak of Maxwell efficiency. But the engineers, and the manufacturing men knew that building a chassis without fundamental change in design year after year would ultimately tell in results. For every one knows that doing one thing results in doing it well.

So in five years 300,000 Maxwells have come forth, all built on the original chassis plan—each new one better than the last.

There is no self-starting automobile in the world that has such a manufacturing record.

Think what it means to a man who owns one:

He has not paid for a false overhead.

He has not paid for manufacturing mistakes.

He has not paid for experimental work.

He has not paid for the changes of mind of another man.

Today you get a better Maxwell than any of the 300,000, and a better looking Maxwell. It is a finished work, a completed task, a thing well done.

You run no risk—and when you cast your eyes on it you are tempted to feel that the price might easily be $200 more.

To an everlasting home
Where no sorrows ever enter
Or no trials or no cares
All is peace and love and pleasure
In our home prepared up there.

Wondering why it was so soon
That her spirit should be called
And her soul should be required
To depart and leave us all
When her presence like the sunshine
Filled our hearts with love and cheer.
And her deeds of love and kindness
Made her seem to us so dear.

Lieutenant Peters enlisted at Altoona, when he was employd by the S. M. Griffith Company, painters and paperhangers, and was, it is said, engaged to marry a young lady of that city, an event which was to take place upon his return from the war. He was one of the soldiers on the Moldavia, which was torpedoed off the coast of Ireland at 3 o'clock one morning in February, 1918, with the loss of fifty lives. Young Peters lost all of his equipment save his shoes and overcoat in that dreadful early morning adventure.

STOMACH TORTURE GONE; FIRST SLEEP IN THREE MONTHS

Mr. Heinricks Was Ready to Give Up. Then He Found How to Regain Health.

"The first sleep I had had in three months was on the second night after I began using Milks Emulsion. I had had a bad case of stomach trouble and constipation for years and was ready to give up. I was troubled with gas, dizziness, bloat after eating, gnawing sensation and cramps in the stomach. Milks Emulsion was a God-send to me, and I want everyone to know about a medicine that will cure cases like mine."—C. E. Heinricks, 702 S. Alabama St. Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. Heinricks and thousands of other former sufferers from catarrh of the stomach, indigestion and bowel troubles, have found that Milks Emulsion gives prompt relief and real lasting benefit.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. It is truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co. Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Stewarts Drug Store.

BOARD OF HISTORIANS
"Your production of 'Hearts of the World' is the most notable on record, and we feel privileged in greeting you as the greatest of modern historians."

MARY PICKFORD
"Life is better after seeing 'Hearts of the World'. It did my soul good. I had some wonderful laughs and I spoiled several handkerchiefs, too. And I shouted just as loud as anyone at the close."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN
"I laughed! I sobbed! The tears were in my eyes! It's a beautiful story, with a magnificent climax. I clapped my hands! I shouted until I was hoarse!"

MONROE LATHROP
"A work of genius. The vast audience was literally swept out of their seats by the catharsis and excitement to which they had been carried, giving D. W. Griffith, wizard of the drama, an ovation passing in fervor and sound anything known in our theatre annals."—(Los Angeles Tribune.)

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
"Great! No painting, no word, nothing in the world ever has spoken like that. I didn't know where I was until everybody was shouting and I was yelling with them."

HEARTS OF THE WORLD
The production that required eighteen months in the making, and in which one million men and women, ad fifty thousand horses, appear, will be seen at the Driggs' Theatre this week Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday matinee. Take particular note of the reasonable prices. Nights, 25c to $1.00. Matinee 25c and 50c. All seats are reserved. All seats on sale tomorrow.

300 ATTEND ANTI-CIGARETTE MEETING AT Y. M. C. A.

A large crowd of 300 fathers and mothers and boys and girls of Clearfield heard Secretary Graffius' address Sunday afternoon on cigarettes He said he had seen several small boys and minors purchase cigarettes in several stores in town

The twelve boys he took before the district attorney exposed several stores He answered the criticism of parents and lies of the law violators by cold facts He denies having written or having given notes for boys to buy cigarettes He compared a cigarette to a mad dog or a rattlesnake and said the following drugs and poisons were put in cigarette papers, oesuir, opium and cocaine, stating, if a man or boy was to chew up a pack of cigarette papers and swallow them they would kill him in a half hours time

The ministers of the different churches are backing up and standing back of Mr Graffius in a fight against minors buying or smoking cigarettes and have asked their congregations to stand for the right

Much interest is being aroused in the court trial this week, against the store on Third street which sold cigarettes to minors.
